

Nautipaints, since the beginning of its activity in 2000, has maintained the activity of boats/mega yacht maintenance and painting, assuming a high-quality commitment in the execution of its works with maximum respect towards the environment and therefore, with all the stakeholders who they work with.

As a culmination of this lower environment impact activity, Nautipaints has implemented an environment management system in accordance to ISO 14001:2015, with the aim to organize and improve its activity within the current environmental laws. Recently, a Quality management system based on 9001:2015 has been added to the organization, in accordance with its strategic direction and the clients and supplier's expectations.

Nautipaints accomplishes all its productivity activities taking in account all the possible environment impacts which could emerge therefrom and taking action in order to prevent them. Similarly, from the results of its activity analysis, the managers commit themselves to improving the quality and environmental management, by reviewing it in defined periods and establishing goals for continuous improvement after each period.

Therefore, the daily activity of Nautipaints is carried out in a controlled way, applying the current law and implementing all the management mechanisms the international law provides, with the aim to apply effective control on the possible negative effects on the environment and on the prevention of environmental accidents as a consequence of any production activity.

Nautipaints invests in the necessary equipment and installations in order to perform the production in the best conditions for the workers and minimizing possible environmental impacts which could be generated during the activity, with the aim to obtain a high-quality standard in agreement of the client's specifications.

The quality and environmental management system is implemented, recorded and checked by the managers in accordance with ISO 9001:2015 and ISO 14001:2015.

The company workers are informed of this management and this policy, which is distributed to all of them and displayed for the general public.

By this document, Nautipaints commits itself to carry out all the necessary proceedings for the continuous improvement in the quality of its services and products and in the preservation of the environment and the awareness of its workers and partners within the company's philosophy.
